SUMMARY

I'm programming for, 2 years commercially. I transform my passion for coding into code that's readable, clear and easy to maintain. Working for company as big as Neonet S.A. taught me humility, scrupulousness and work at the highest standards where attention to team goals and details are the most important things. I'm constantly developing, improving my skills and I'm happy to take advice from colleagues who are more experianced than I am.
